DETAILED ACTION

Priority

1. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Specification

2. The following guidelines illustrate the preferred layout for the specification of a utility application. These guidelines are suggested for the applicant's use.

Arrangement of the Specification

As provided in 37 CFR 1.77(b), the specification of a utility application should include the following sections in order. Each of the lettered items should appear in upper case, without underlining or bold type, as a section heading. If no text follows the section heading, the phrase "Not Applicable" should follow the section heading:

- (a) TITLE OF THE INVENTION.
- (b) CROSS-REFERENCE TO RELATED APPLICATIONS.
- (c) STATEMENT REGARDING FEDERALLY SPONSORED RESEARCH OR DEVELOPMENT.
- (d) THE NAMES OF THE PARTIES TO A JOINT RESEARCH AGREEMENT.
- (e) INCORPORATION-BY-REFERENCE OF MATERIAL SUBMITTED ON A COMPACT DISC.
- (f) BACKGROUND OF THE INVENTION.
  - (1) Field of the Invention.
  - (2) Description of Related Art including information disclosed under 37 CFR 1.97 and 1.98.
- (g) BRIEF SUMMARY OF THE INVENTION.
- (h) BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE SEVERAL VIEWS OF THE DRAWING(S).
- (i) DETAILED DESCRIPTION OF THE INVENTION.
- (j) CLAIM OR CLAIMS (commencing on a separate sheet).
- (k) ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE (commencing on a separate sheet).
- (l) SEQUENCE LISTING (See MPEP § 2424 and 37 CFR 1.821-1.825. A "Sequence Listing" is required on paper if the application discloses a nucleotide or amino acid sequence as defined in 37 CFR 1.821(a) and if the required "Sequence Listing" is not submitted as an electronic document on compact disc).

3. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: On page 5 the list of reference characters should be removed and throughout the specification the reference to the claims should be removed. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

4. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

5. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

6. Claim 1 recites the limitation "the  $\alpha$  group" in line 11. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim. It is unclear if the text inside the parenthesis is part of the claim limitation.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

7. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

8. Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Nishimura et al (US 6,481,305), as best understood.

Nishimura et al disclose a roller screw comprising: a screw shaft (12) formed, on an outer peripheral surface thereof, with a spiral roller rolling groove having a V-shape in section; a nut member (14) formed, on an inner peripheral surface thereof, with a spiral loaded roller rolling groove having a V-shape in section opposing to the V-shaped roller rolling groove of the screw shaft; and a number of rollers (16) disposed between the roller rolling groove and the loaded roller rolling groove (see Fig 1), wherein a number of rollers include a roller group (17) bearing the load in axial one direction of the screw shaft and a roller group (18) arranged in cross shape to be perpendicular to the axis of the group roller in a roller advancing direction and adapted to bear the load in an direction opposing to the axial one direction of the screw shaft, and each of the number of rollers has a diameter larger than a distance between a wall surface of the roller rolling groove and a wall surface of the loaded roller rolling groove which opposes to the above-mentioned wall surface (see Fig 1).

Re claim 2, a roller screw comprising: a screw shaft (12) formed, on an outer peripheral surface thereof, with a spiral roller rolling groove having a V-shape in section; a nut member (14) formed, on an inner peripheral surface thereof, with a spiral loaded roller rolling groove having a V-shape in section opposing to the V-shaped roller rolling groove of the screw shaft; and a number of rollers (16) disposed between the roller rolling groove and the loaded roller rolling groove, wherein the loaded roller rolling groove of the nut member includes a central groove section having a pitch larger than a pitch of the screw shaft and a pair of end groove sections disposed on both sides of the central groove section and having a pitch equal to the pitch of the screw shaft (see Fig 2 at P).

9. Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Virga (US 4,896,552).

Virga discloses a roller screw comprising: a screw shaft (13) formed, on an outer peripheral surface thereof, with a spiral roller rolling groove having a V-shape in section; a nut member (21) formed, on an inner peripheral surface thereof, with a spiral loaded roller rolling groove having a V-shape in section opposing to the V-shaped roller rolling groove of the screw shaft; and a number of rollers (27) disposed between the roller rolling groove and the loaded roller rolling groove, wherein the nut member is divided in an axial direction into a first nut piece (21, left side of Fig 2)) and a second nut piece (21, right side of Fig 2), and a shim (25) is disposed between the first and second nut pieces so as to apply compression loads to the rollers for the first nut piece disposed in the first nut piece and to the rollers for the second nut piece disposed in the second nut piece (col. 2 lines 20-42).
